

Len Washington III , Garbo Chen , Alexander Garcia , Dulce Gomez

COM 421 - Technical Communication

November 17, 2024

Project 2 - Topic Proposal

While the UI is functional, it's also very basic. The names of locations are also not always easy to remember. "Tower Desk East Reader" and "PH West Door" make sense; but other names such as "## Parking In" aren't always reliable, especially when the parking lot has multiple entrances and exits.

We can research the problem by interviewing students about their interactions with the app, including, if they've heard about it, how they like or dislike it, and if any changes we can think of would be beneficial in their eyes.

(199 words)